REHABILITATION OF SILVER

KEY PITTMAN'S PROGRAMME

Washington, May 19. Senator Pittman has announced a six-point programme for the rehabilitation of silver, on which he said all nations, with which the United States had recently discussed the subject, are in agreement. The countries include Canada, Mexico, Great Britain, Argentina and China.

The programme states:—

Firstly, the price of silver should be reasonably raised and substantially stabilised around that point, (no specific figure was mentioned by Senator Pittman, although sixty cents has been discussed unofficially).

Secondly, the status of silver is a part of the general problem of stabilisation of currencies.

Thirdly, the Governments should agree to abandon the policy and practice of debasing and melting up silver.

Fourthly, the restoration of the fineness of debased coins should be brought about as rapidly as practicable.

Fifthly, as far as possible there should be a larger use of silver as a base for currency issues, and Sixthly, tariffs and other obstructions to the free movement of silver should be lowered or eliminated.

Asked whether Great Britain had agreed to have the Government of India stop debasing its silver currency, Senator Pittman said that the British contended this was a matter for the Government of India itself to decide.

Senator Pittman also intimated that there had been no discussion on the free coinage of silver in any of the recent conversations.—Reuter.

SAITO'S VISIT TO SAIONJI

Rumours of Impending Resignation

Tokyo, May 20. The Japanese newspapers give considerable prominence to the visit of Admiral Viscount Saito to Okitau to-day to see Prince Saionji.

Saiyuki headquarters assert that the purpose of Saito's visit is to inform the Genro of his intention to resign the Premiership, but most close observers discount the report.—Reuter.

STOP PRESS

NANCHANG OFFICERS REPORTED LOCATED.

(Special to "Telegraph")

Dairin, May 20.

A vernacular newspaper published here to-day reports that a Manchukuo coast patrol plane on Tuesday located the three Nanchang British prisoners aboard a large junk in the Sha River about twenty-one miles west of Panshan.

Eighty armed men are camped along the stream. They fired on the plane and forced it down, but after effecting repairs, it managed to return to base.—Reuter.

AIRCRAFT-CARRIER OFF TAKU

PLANES VISITS TO TIENTSIN

Tientsin, May 20, 10 a.m.

The visit of the Japanese aeroplanes at 8.10 a.m. to-day was not, it now transpires, their first visit of the day.

Their first visit was made at about five o'clock this morning. Presumably they are from the aircraft-carrier now lying off Taku.—Reuter.

DANZIG DISORDERS

"BROWN TERROR" RAGES

COMMISSIONER WORRIED

Warsaw, May 19.

"The Brown (Nazi) Terror Rages. Danzig's Existence is Threatened."

In these striking phrases, the Government Party at Danzig have issued a statement appealing for measures to prevent Nazi interference with the normal course of the elections and vigorously protesting against the present activities of the Nazis.

The Government Party demands the deportation of Herr Lassmann, a Deputy of the Prussian Landtag, who headed the party of Nazis which broke up a meeting of the Government Party at Danzig yesterday, which was to have been addressed by Dr. Zehm, the President of the Senate.

COMMISSIONER ANXIOUS.

Dr. Roosting, who is Acting League High Commissioner for Danzig, has arrived at Warsaw and has conferred with the Polish Foreign Minister on the situation.

It will be recalled that earlier this week, Sir John Simon, answering questions in the House of Commons regarding developments at Danzig, said he recently saw the High Commissioner, who deprecates alarmist reports of the possibility of serious disorders during the election.

Sir John Simon added: "We all very much hope that he may turn out to be right."—Reuter.

CRUELTY TO MUI TSAI

BANDITS' VICTIM BEATEN BY EMPLOYERS

Before Mr. E. H. Williams, in the District Office North, Taiipo, yesterday, Inspector Fraser, of the S.C.A., charged a Chinese man and woman with keeping an unregistered mui tsai and assaulting the girl. The woman was fined a total of $75, while the man was fined $50.

The girl was captured from her home in Wai Chow by bandits, and was sold to the defendants in the Pai Tau Village, Shatin district. She was ordered to go to the hillside to cut wood, but the woman defendant requested her to become a prostitute. On the girl refusing, her hands were tied behind her and she was beaten with a pole. When examined at the Tai Po dispensary, multiple bruises were found on her body.

His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to recognize, provisionally and pending instructions from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Dale W. Maher as a Consul for the United States in Hongkong.

SINO-JAPANESE CONFLICT FEARS

ACCESS TO CONCESSION PREVENTED

AIR VISITS TO-DAY

TIENTSIN, MAY 20.

THERE IS NO LONGER ANY DOUBT THAT TIENTSIN IS FACED BY THE PERILOUS POSSIBILITY OF AN INTERNAL SINO-JAPANESE CLASH.

COMMENCING AT 11.40 P.M. LAST NIGHT, A SERIES OF SHARP DETONATIONS AND OCCASIONAL RIFLE SHOTS WERE HEARD FROM THE SECTION OF THE JAPANESE CONCESSION ADJOINING THE NATIVE CITY.

It was impossible to ascertain the cause of the outbreak, though it is presumed that some sort of attack was made. All entrances to the Japanese Concession were closed and no-one was permitted to pass the Japanese sentries.

It is the general opinion that the events mark the inauguration of the predicted local Sino-Japanese conflict.

At about 8.10 a.m. to-day, three Japanese scouting planes came in from the East and circled over the city for about five minutes and then again made off to the east.

STATION EXPLOSION FACTS

No explosions were heard and no leaflets were dropped. The visit, presumably was made in connection with last night's disturbances, of which there is no sign this morning, although tense feeling prevails.

STATION EXPLOSION.

Last night's affair seems to be connected undoubtedly with the explosion in Tientsin Railway Station, although the Japanese reports of the occurrence have since been shown to be highly exaggerated.

Both British and American despatches from Tientsin minimise the number of casualties, stated by the Japanese to exceed a hundred killed and wounded. As far as British and American enquiries have revealed one man was killed and several injured.

BURNING COACHES.

The explosion occurred when guards inspecting luggage in the dining car of the train which had just arrived at Tientsin from Tangku.

The dining car and three other coaches caught on fire and were shunted out of the station.

Most of the passengers had alighted before the explosion.

MARTIAL LAW.

Strict martial law has been proclaimed round the station. All traffic has been stopped and no body is allowed to pass the police cordon.—Reuter.

ELEVEN JAPANESE BOMBING PLANES OVER PEKING

GREAT EXCITEMENT IN CITY THIS MORNING

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT)

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, May 20, 10.42 a.m.)

Peking, May 20.

No fewer than eleven Japanese bombing planes are now flying over Peking. It is a little after 9.30 p.m.

They came from the North, flying in formation, and after crossing the city, eight of them broke away from the main group and disappeared in the direction of the south-west, apparently towards Paotingfu.

The other three are returning and are circling over the city.

The aerial visitors are all keeping fairly high, but they are clearly visible in the early summer morning and the drone of their engines is plainly audible.

Thousands are watching the flight. A high wind is blowing but this is not troubling the planes. No sounds of firing by the Peking anti-aircraft guns can be heard.—Reuter.

Disturbances in the Japanese Concession last night are causing anxiety. The Japanese are on the alert. Above photographs, show below, the military atmosphere in the Japanese Concession; and top, the Italian Concession prepared for squalls on the last occasion of Sino-Japanese conflicts in Tientsin.

Mr. J. M. Harriman, the prominent banker, who was arrested in March last for alleged false entries to deceive the Comptroller of Currency, to-day walked out of the hospital where he was being treated for heart trouble.

The Police have broadcast an alarm. Notes, which the banker left are causing his family great anxiety.

Mr. Harriman, who is 66 years of age, has been in the banking business for 46 years, being at one time Vice-president of the Merchants' National Bank, and subsequently President of the Harriman National Bank, and subsequently President of the Harriman National Banking and Trust Company.—Reuter.

Washington, May 19. Before leaving for New York, Mr. T. V. Soong called at the White House for a final word with President Roosevelt.

He made the President farewell at noon and left in the afternoon for New York.

It is now Mr. Soong's intention to sail for England aboard the Aquitania on May 27 and it is understood that he proposes to employ the intervening period in conferring with Wall Street bankers and financial experts.

The Chinese visitors expressed greatest pleasure at the cordiality of their reception in Washington and said they were well satisfied with the course of the Sino-American discussions.—Reuter.

GERMANY'S NEW GESTURE

BRIGHTER HOPES FOR DISARMAMENT

BRITISH PLAN ACCEPTED

Geneva, May 19.

The atmosphere at Geneva to-day is much improved. After the alarms and excursions regarding Germany's attitude yesterday, a promising frame of mind was revealed by Herr Nodolny to-day.

Addressing the specially summoned meeting of the General Commission of the Disarmament Conference, Herr Nodolny announced that Germany accepted the MacDonald Plan as the basis of a future disarmament convention.

Insofar as Germany may propose any modifications, they would conform to this new declaration.

He thought that Germany's new declaration constituted a sufficient proof of the spirit of moderation in which Germany was working towards the realisation of a Convention and he trusted that other States would do their utmost to make their interests fit within the framework of the British Plan.

WARM WELCOME.

Captain Anthony Eden warmly welcomed Herr Nodolny's statement. He said that his conversations with the German delegate last week had not been "crowned with glory," but he was ready to continue the conversations in the hope of better results.

They had now reached the decisive stage of the Conference, he added.

ROOSEVELT MESSAGE.

Captain Eden also heartily welcomed President Roosevelt's message, on behalf of the British Government, and especially his wholehearted support of the MacDonald Disarmament Plan, which was an attempt to seek a basis that would be universally accepted.—Reuter.

ACCEPTS BRITISH PLAN.

London, May 19.

The anxiously awaited declaration by the German delegate to Disarmament Conference was made this afternoon at a meeting of General Commission when Herr Nodolny accepted the British Plan "not only as we have up to now, as a basis of discussion, but as the basis of the future Disarmament Convention itself."

His speech was preceded by a statement by the Chairman, Mr. Arthur Henderson, who having laid before the meeting President Roosevelt's peace message, which, inter alia, urged the acceptance of the British draft convention by the conference, made an earnest appeal for the withdrawal of the amendments which have obstructed the progress of conference.

HENDERSON'S APPEAL.

He referred also to the German Chancellor, Hitler's speech and to the points of similarity between it and Roosevelt's pronouncement, and paid particular attention to Hitler's statement that he aimed not at equality of armaments but at equality of disarmament. Mr. Henderson appealed to all delegations to make an effort at mutual understandings and concessions.

WILL OF GERMANY.

After Herr Nodolny had said that Hitler's speech had clearly expressed the will of Germany to arrive at an understanding and her sincere desire to collaborate in the establishment of durable peace, he added that the German people continued to demand that the conference should guarantee the disarmament of strongly armed States and the recognition of the German right to equality.

"I believe the British Plan constitutes a basis on which a solution of the different problems can be found. That is why I declare (Continued on Page 16)

Fine Details Without Fussiness Give Distinction
To the Better Suits and Coats.

By Joan Savoy

It's the fine detail work that makes many of the better suits and coats what they are this spring.

Some of them are tucked away like everything, to be in fashion. Particularly smart is the garment that can achieve some pleasing design by its tucking or pleating that gives richness to the picture, without that fussiness which makes you tire so easily of anything you wear.

One very smart suit, that combines the smart new putty colour with a dark brown crepe blouse and crepe lining, has a tucked coat that gives the suit further contrast.

The skirt is plain, beautifully cut to give just enough flare. The coat sounds the new swaggar line and is just enough different to make it highly desirable. Its tucks run down the shoulders and the raglan sleeves in diagonal manner. The front and back swaggar lengths have tucks that run vertically. There is an Ascot scarf, also tucked. The coat's lining shows its brown, to match the blouse, when you walk. You can wear all brown accessories, or all putty coloured ones or combine them.

Very smart and nicely conservative is the navy blue crepe coat with fine tucking detail. Little insets of horizontal tucks give flare to the Ascot scarf and enrich the puff of the sleeves above the elbow, accented by the fitted slender cuff to the elbow. This coat is beautifully formed and has little inverted tucks through the waistline under the arms, to give you enough room for ease through the arms. It has self-buttons and something new in the way of a little fastening for the bottom made of the blue wool, at the side of the waistline.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF.

By Alicia Hart.

Spring fingernails have undergone some fashion changes.

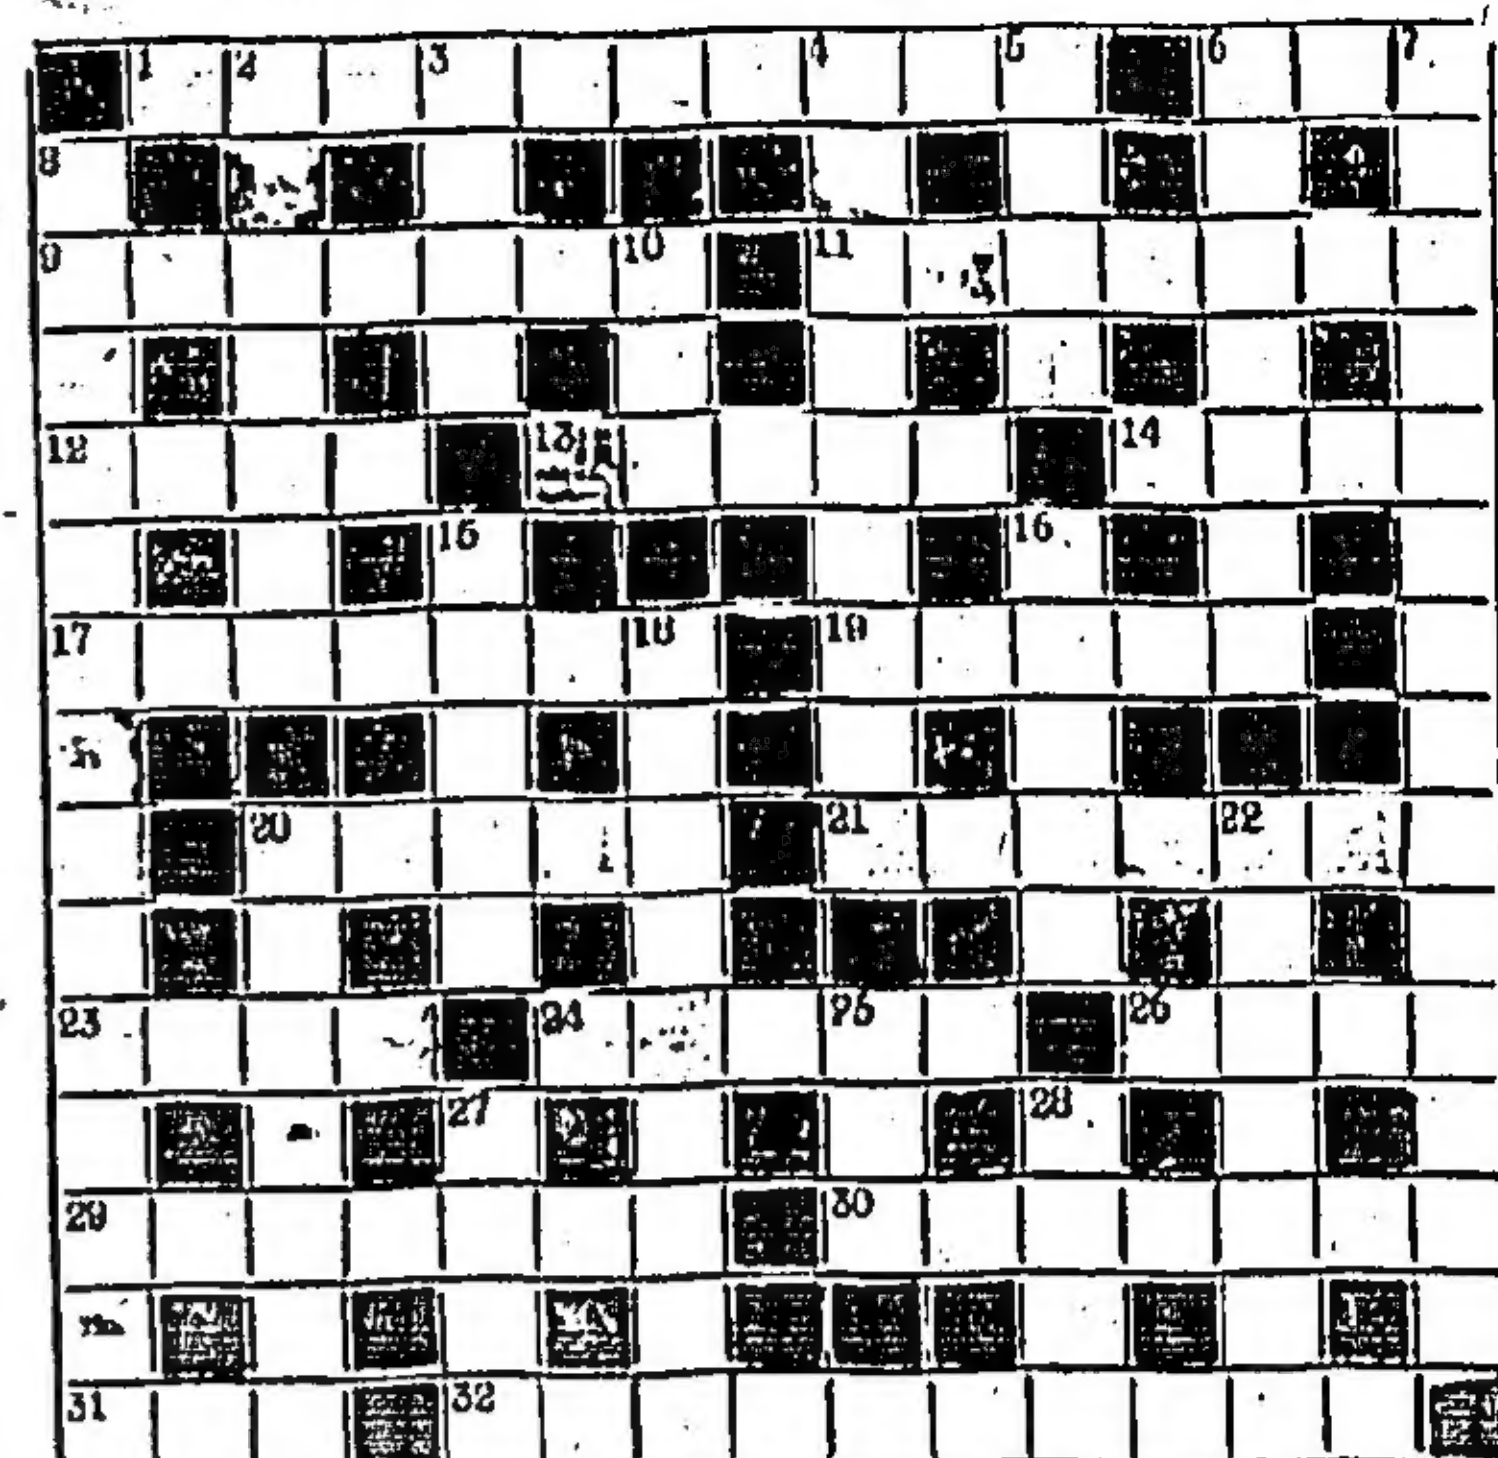

Now that you can buy detachable little nails to paste on over your own, the very perfection of such devices should spur women to make their own look better than artificial ones can.

First, you probably need a little oil for your cuticle nights. There are cuticle oils. Vaseline will do. If you aren't in a buying mood. Second, work a little on your cuticle every day. Push each cuticle back, when you dry your hands during the day. Use remover at night. Get those moons to show or know why!

When it comes to putting on the polish, have you seen the new glamorous evening ones? Gold, silver, bronze, platinum. And probably much more becoming to you when you wear your new stiffened organdy dress, is the new mother-of-pearl tint. It has a rosy hue, but that same gleam that mother-of-pearl has. Really lovely.

Work a little on your hands, too. There are hand creams that give a smooth finish to your paddles. Avoid all stains, particularly stains from housework and from smoking. Both are distasteful. Last, but not least, when you have done your best for your hands, give them a touch of perfume before you leave for dancing. It does something!

LOVE or MONEY?

BY H. W. CORLEY

CHAPTER XXXIV

Jackson had drawn the Townsend car up alongside the gangplank and the Morans looked out ahead of the two travellers. The passenger agent hurried to greet Mrs. Towns end personally.

"Oh, steward," he called, beckoning. Immediately from now-where two dusky white-coated members of the Miranda's crew hastened forward and picked up the suitcases, bags and dressing boxes which the two girls had considered adequate to contain the articles left out of yesterday's packing. The cabin, as they were to see, was filled with other articles.

"So this is a boat, Min. Are you sure?"

Mona was fumbling in her bag and presently brought forth an envelope. She withdrew two large rectangles of greenish paper and handed them to the agent.

"Tickets," breathed Kitty.
"They look like wall paper."

"The further you go, the bigger they get!" someone explained.

Ma, instantly loyal, took Lottie's good-humored fibe not quite so good-humoredly. It sounded like a dig at Minnie's travelling arrangements. Wasn't Minnie putting up the money for everything?

"Oh course it's a boat," Ma announced spiritedly. "And a fine boat, too. A fine little boat.
What did you expect, a floating night club?"

"Something this side of the Nina or the Pinta," Lottie remarked.
"Well, we're just a pair of vagabond travellers. What do we care?"

Following their guides, loaded with baggage, the girls made their way to the lower deck of the boat.
Mona was not without certain misgivings. She had never sailed anywhere before but both she and Lottie had attended farewell parties on various transatlantic liners. She had expected better accommodations than were here.

The little party made its way into the lower cabin, up a flight of stairs into the smoking room, thence on deck and up a flight of stairs to the boat deck.

"Mr. Ashton said this was the better deck. The natives swarm these boats at every port and on this deck it is impossible for them to look in at our port holes," Mona explained. "We have the stateroom reserved for the government official at St. Thomas. It must be all right."

Stateroom A was the best the boat afforded. It was not large, nor could it be called small. Two iron beds were "rooted to the floor," as Ma put it. A dresser was likewise attached. There were two comfortable rattan arm-chairs, and a long mirror.
Windows looked out on a tiny deck which the steward assured them was their own. The windows likewise faced the stern and the second cabin quarters.

Across a sweep of lower deck filled with winches, coils of rope and open hatches Mona could see the second cabin. It looked something like a miniature flatiron building shoved into the stern.

"Glorious, all Harlem is aboard!" was Ma's ejaculation. It almost seemed so. The second-class cabin and decks were filled to overflowing. Yellow girls, seal brown girls, all dressed in 1933 street version of the latest fashions. There were fat women, kinky-haired women. A few children. Men who looked, and probably were, pillars of a church somewhere. Younger men in narrow hipped, tightly belted coats, their hats aslant. Crying women. Laughing women. All the varying shades of brown.

"Are they all leaving town?"
Lottie gasped.

They were not all leaving town,
it seemed. When the gong sounded for visitors to go, the greater part of the gathering reluctantly sought the gang plank.

One woman wearing a blue suit that would have done Lottie credit burst into tears and flung her arms about the neck of a man in gray.

"You ain't never coming back!"
she wailed. "You ain't never coming back. I know it!"

"Hush, Flo, honey."

"You ain't. You ain't!"

"Well, soothingly, 'I ain't if you don't want me to.'"

Lottie accompanied Kitty on a tour of inspection while Mona took leave of her mother. Lottie returned, far from intrigued with the Miranda.

"You can't buy candy," she said.
"You can't even get a magazine."

"We have plenty of everything in our bags, Lottie."

"Yes, plenty," said Ma. "I packed them myself."

Another gong sounded.
"Are you sure this is a good cabin?" asked Ma doubtfully.

"Of course," Mona assured her.
"These are the only de luxe—"

BRITISH EMPIRE FAIR

EVERY INCH OF SPACE BOOKED

Every available inch of space on the ground and first floors of the Peninsula Hotel, and in the huge matchbox on the corner of Nathan and Salisbury Roads, has been booked by exhibitors at the British Empire Fair, opening on May 24. This will, undoubtedly, be Hongkong's greatest show. Last year's effort, although highly commendable, will be totally eclipsed. The finest products of Great Britain and her Dominions will be set out in splendid array; local industrialists and business men will combine in making the trade display an outstanding one.

Exhibitors were still applying for space in the Fair up to yesterday afternoon. The third last applicant could be accommodated as an exhibitor had fallen out at the last moment owing to non-arrival of exhibits from England; the other two had to go away unsatisfied: the plan had been finally adjusted and there was not another square inch of space, either in the Peninsula Hotel or in the two large pavilions on Nathan Road.

The Organising Committee desires to express its apologies to exhibitors who registered early, for the delay—caused by constant changes of plan and later registration—in issuing a circular letter to everybody concerned, giving particulars of the allocation of space.

It is impossible now to send each exhibitor a copy of the general plan, but it may be seen either at the Peninsula Hotel (for either section) or in the Pavilion on Nathan Road. Both plans are also available at the office of the Chamber of Commerce, Chartered Bank Building. The plans are to scale, and exhibitors can work out from them the exact position and space allotted. Firms having large exhibits have naturally taken this data from the plans already, to facilitate the provision of special stands.

Those exhibiting in the Peninsula Hotel may begin to install their exhibits at noon on Tuesday. The Hotel staff will be hard at work all the morning, until then, removing the heavy furniture.

Those exhibiting in the Pavilion may begin to prepare their stalls from now onwards. Naturally they will not wish to begin too soon on account of the necessity of providing watchers. The police authorities have promised special and greatly increased supervision, but the Fair Committee cannot undertake to provide watchmen.

The Hongkong Telephone Company has given the Fair Committee the use of an installation known as the Public Address System, which will make it possible for the speeches at the opening ceremony, to be performed by H.E. the Governor at noon on May 24, to be heard all over the Peninsula Hotel.

During the period of the Fair exhibitors will be able to use the system for any announcements they may wish to make to the public. The moderate fee charged will, by permission of the Telephone Company, go towards the expenses of the Fair.

According to Messrs. Swan, Culbertson and Fritz, the New York market was steady yesterday. Business done: 3,280,000 shares. The Wall Street Journal reports:—After fluctuating irregularly all day owing to profit-taking, stocks rallied moderately at the close due to short covering and to continued favourable business news. Traders are apparently holding aloof, awaiting the development of the administration's reconstruction plan.

time on his way—like the Bourbons, learning nothing and forgetting nothing.

"O FESTUS DIES!"

Marriage is often a tragedy, however viewed, a touching tribute. If you will, to the limitlessness of human credulity; and looking back on the vast visit of History but little is seen save an impenetrable gloom with only here and there a few rays of light endeavouring feebly to pierce the Cimmerian darkness which no known alchemy can dispel. But History, you may demur, is too wide a canvas, so let us narrow the landscape and bring the subject of marriage into our own lives. Si monumentum requiris, circumspice.

Which of my many friends—and I am fortunate in my friends—have not told me at one time or another of their trials and tribulations, of the mortal coils that have enmeshed them since that fatal day—ironically enough, O festus dies!—when they took the plunge which for ever was to wash unhappiness away? Truly their name is legion, but I will content myself with a typical case to point the moral and adorn the tale. They are both getting old now, though his wife thinks James carries his years well enough, better, it need not be said, than I do. But James knows otherwise, and unburdened himself to me one night (when a session at the Club had loosened our tongues) on the mixed blessings of the married state. "The missus," he said succinctly, with that tongue—or it may be twinge—of dialect which I always think adds such pungency to melancholy, and that far-away look of deep sorrow that I have observed in some captive birds, "the missus is orright, ole me-an, but yer simply dunnow what I 'as to put up with sometimes—yer reely dunown. Goo-nigh, ole me-an, goo-nigh!"

Poor James, I thought, as I reached my own place shortly afterwards to be greeted by my two dogs as though they hadn't seen me for years, poor James, I thought, with his dream of domus et placens uxor, and the reality!

ORLEBAR'S NERVE "SHAKEN"

WRITING WORSE THAN 360 M.P.H. FLIGHTS

Wing Commander A. H. Orlebar, the British Schneider Trophy pilot, has recently undergone an ordeal which, he says, has shaken him more than any of his high-speed flights.

He has written a book, based on his flying experiences and illustrated with a series of remarkable pictures. This is how he described his efforts to a reporter: "It was 60,000 words of real toil. This is my first book—and you can take it from me, it is my last."

Publication of the book recalls one of Wing Commander Orlebar's most terrifying high-speed experiences.

A Schneider Trophy seaplane on an experimental test off Calshot just before the 1931 contest flashes across the sky at 360 miles an hour.

TAIL "FLUTTER"

Suddenly, to the horror of those watching, the machine develops a tail "flutter." The machine must surely burst into pieces under the terrible strain, and members of Britain's high-speed team turn away, unwilling to see the death crash of its gallant pilot.

But the pilot is Squadron Leader (now Wing Commander) A. H.

BIG ROAD TRANSPORT MERGER

TO SERVE FOURTEEN COUNTIES

A big road transport merger was revealed when application was made for licences to run vehicles over routes previously served by the Western Transport Company.

The Commissioners granted the application, which was made by the Crosville Motor Company, of Liverpool.

The new company began operations on May 1, and the area they serve extends over 14 counties, including Lancashire, Cheshire, Shropshire and the greater part of North Wales.

The receipts of the company are expected to be in the region of £1,000,000 a year and the capital is £1,000,000.

More than 800 vehicles will be used on the various services, and 3,000 people will be employed.

Orlebar, the team's chief, and slowly, under the sure touch of the master, the shivering seaplane reduces speed and alights safely.

That was "Nerveless" Orlebar, as he is known, after a test in which he was face to face with death while gaining information which enabled British designers to produce machines that bent the world.

"NESTA OF THE FOREST"

TELLING POLICE- WOMEN'S FORTUNES

Extraordinary stories were told by policewomen when a small, blonde woman of 40, known in South Wales and the West of England as "Nesta of the Forest," was at Gloucester, fined £2, or in default ordered 14 days' imprisonment, for fortune telling.

The woman, Mrs. Nesta Lewis, of Worcester-street, Gloucester, said she would not pay, adding: "Christ had no money to pay his fine." She was remanded in custody.

"Nesta," who was dressed in a striking green uniform with a white head-dress similar to the head-dresses worn by hospital nurses, was defended by an M.P., Mr. Temple Morris, who sits for Cardiff East.

She took into Court --
A large crucifix,
A Rosary,

"PRETTY, BUT A FLIRT."

Policewoman Elsie Sandover said that when she called on Nesta on March 21 there were on a table a crucifix and a pack of cards, and Nesta told her, among other things, that she would be interested in a "tragic secret." Nesta charged 3s. 6d.

In reply to Mr. Morris, the policewoman denied that "Nesta" read an oath containing the following: "All who touch this crucifix . . . swear they are not police spies."

Another policewoman, Edith Lodge, said she visited Nesta, who told her she would be married and have three children. In cross-examination she denied that Nesta said to her: "You are very pretty for a policewoman, but you are a flirt."

"HOT AND STRONG."

Mr. Morris said that Nesta was a member of the Supernatural League and a psychic and mental healer, but did not tell fortunes.

"Nesta" made the following statements:

"There are people in Gloucester I am saving from insanity."

"I use second sight, and the training God have given me."

"I knew immediately that both these women were policewomen. They would not go, and I thought I would give it to them hot and strong, and told them nonsense."

NEW BRITISH STEEL YACHT

FOR AMERICA'S CUP?

Largely through the interest of the King the yachting season this year is back to normal, and the finest racing since the war among the big yachts is promised. Britannia, the King's racing yacht, has been modernised, and it is expected that she will excel her performance of last year, when she beat Shamrock V.

The all-British steel racing yacht, which has been built at Messrs. Camper and Nicholson's yard at Gosport, Hampshire, for Mr. W. L. Stephenson, governing director of Messrs. Woolworth (F. W.) and Co., Ltd., will be ready for launching shortly.

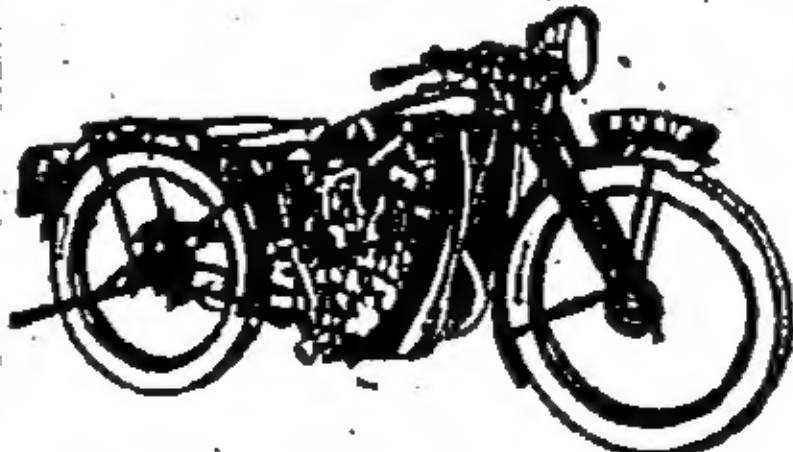

The yacht, built to the "J" class Mr. W. L. Stephenson, rule, the recognised rule for the America's Cup races, will be the only large all-metal racing yacht of modern design in British waters. She has been designed by Mr. Charles E. Nicholson, designer of many of the fastest racing yachts afloat.

She will be named Velsheda, after the three daughters of the owner, who has used some of the letters of their Christian names—Velma, Sheila, and Daphne.

The yacht will closely resemble Shamrock V.

It is not unlikely that if the yacht proves fast enough her owner will challenge the United States Yacht Club for the America's Cup next year.

A BROKEN DOWN SYSTEM.
This is a condition (or disease) to which many names are given but few really understand. It is simply weakness—a break down as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same: the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what alone is essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vigor, vital strength and energy to throw off these morbid feelings, and as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY, THERAPION No. 3 than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the printed directions will the shattered health be restored. THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP AFRESH and new existence imparted in place of what had so lately seemed worn-out, used up and valueless. This preparation is suitable for all ages, constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a disease or derangement whose main feature is weakness, that will not be speedily and permanently overcome by this recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this wide-spread scourge of humanity. English Price 3s. 6d. Chinese Price 10s. 6d. per bottle. Dr. L. G. C. Co., Hongkong & Shanghai.

NORTH CHINA PEACE RUMOURS

The failure of Huang Fu to clear up the mystery apparently associated with his arrival in Peking has merely lent colour to rumours that peace or armistice negotiations are afoot. Attempts are made to show pro-Japanese proclivities in Huang Fu and Japan's interest in him would seem to be suggested by the peace feelers simultaneously thrown out in Washington and Shanghai. In effect, Japan indicates willingness to call off the invasion of North China if China is prepared, on her side, to abandon the boycott and to recognise Japan's hegemony in Manchuria. It seems clear, on the surface, that the future of Manchuria forms the crux of any peace discussions between China and Japan and it seems equally obviously that Huang Fu can achieve nothing unless he has authority from Chiang Kai-shek to sacrifice Manchuria in order to save Peking and Tientsin. That such authority has been given is difficult to believe. Mr. Wang Ching-wei is still in Nanking, is still virtually Prime Minister of China, and is essentially a realist. He harbours no delusion about the ability of the Chinese military to check the onrush of the Japanese armies. He accepts the fact that resistance can only mean the loss of further territory to the invader. But he is still determined that, if he has any say in the matter, resistance shall continue. He even deprecates the frequent reports in the Chinese papers of imaginary successes. Fabricated "war news," he says, not only sounds ridiculous to China's enemies as well as those who know the real situation, but also tend to build false hopes which almost invariably lead to disappointment. What is needed now is fewer words and more careful and clear thinking. As we pointed out in a recent analysis of Wang Ching-wei's programme and motives in the national crisis, his doctrines incline to sound the counsel of despair as regards Japan. But despair does not alter an unflinching determination to carry on the unequal fight. He holds that negotiation with Japan, at the present moment, is entirely out of the question, that it can only become possible when Japan voluntarily announces her willingness to join hands with China in a mutually agreeable programme of live and let live. In a recent statement of government policy, Mr. Wang admitted that there might also be other contingencies which would make it possible for China to come to terms with Japan, adding that whatever these may turn out to be, China has fixed, compatible with national honour, a minimum limit. This reveals one possible circumstance which would enable us to square two apparently contradictory facts, the opening of peace negotiations and Mr. Wang Ching-wei's continued presence in Nanking. It is just barely conceivable that the Premier has been influenced by a school of thought which has begun to flourish, which advocates adherence to a Pan-Asia policy, accepting for China, temporarily at least, the principle of a Japanese Monroe Doctrine for the Far East. It would involve a sacrifice on the part of Japan in that, to the eyes of the world, she would give up Manchuria. Actually, however, it would be a victory for Japan. It would mean that China, ostensibly controlling her own affairs, would become a protectorate of Japan. It would mean the final destruction of Western influence. There are many who believe that this will be the ultimate outcome of the present imbroglio and there are a number who are actively working to this end. It stretches our credulity to breaking point, however, to accept any inference that Wang Ching-wei has become, so readily, so easily, a convert. The explanation of Mr. Huang Fu's failure to disclose his plans in Peking is more probably the absence of plans.

When Beauty Giggles

Interest in beauty is age-long and its normal attraction worldwide, but, apparently, there are those to whom it is only "skin deep." So with profound—or is it merely comic?—conviction in the gravity of their situation, a convention of International Beauty Shop Owners offers artificial aids to pulchritude. They would deepen beauty, forsooth, by adding 1-100,000th of an inch of composition lips or detachable finger nails, or a paste to give artificial sparkle to the eyes. Shakespeare must have had in thought the curious inventiveness of such feminine experts when he declared that custom could not "stale her infinite variety." Ordinary persons, it might be supposed, have hitherto rested well content to possess or contemplate a nose fashioned in straight and shapely Grecian mould. Nothing of the kind. Such silly notions are the mark of poor plebeian taste. Fie upon the classic line of pure Hellenic cast. The saucy nose retroussé is what the really well-bred woman henceforth must prefer in order to be in anything like the fashion, declares one expert, and straightway furnishes them—at a hundred Hongkong dollars apiece. Less opulent members of the fair sex need not be discouraged. The expert thinks of their great need, too, and is now at work on a model of standardized design for department store sale. Then, bobbed hair for business women has seemed to many quite ornamental as well as practical. Wrong again. When the desk is closed and the last letter typed, the pretty feminine head, so these beauty fashions maintain, lightly turns to curls. And curls there shall be even if they have to be factory-made and clustered cunningly inside the brim of a hat as substitute for a woman's crowning glory. However, it is far from the purpose of this article to take the matter seriously. Modern women everywhere are too much occupied in doing what Chaucer wrote so long ago, "And be ye wys, as ye ben fair to see to fash themselves, as our Scottish friends say, in matters so puerile."

BUT WHERE IS THE PRINCE?

By E. L. ALLEN

There is a proverb which speaks of playing 'Hamlet' and leaving out the Prince of Denmark. As if anyone would ever do so foolish a thing! Fancy putting a play on the boards and omitting to remind the principal member of the cast that he was wanted! Yet, after all, is it not a fairly common omission? We make a clean sweep of certain evils—but we lift the brush and pass on when we come to the one that has done by far the most harm! We introduce drastic reforms, but they are all to no purpose, for we have left untouched what more than anything else needed to be dealt with! Here are some illustrations that come to one's mind. In each case, there is something involved with which one is heartily in sympathy, yet in each case again, what really matters most has somehow been left out!

Take, for example, that great achievement of last century—Democracy. We have learned to substitute government by consent for government by force, political power to-day is diffused through the masses, not jealously preserved as a monopoly by an individual or a class. The Chartists had their simple faith that such measures as manhood suffrage, payment of members, and annual Parliaments would enable us to slip quietly over into the Millennium, and our own generation showed a similar enthusiasm when it went a-crusading to make the world safe for democracy. But something seems to have gone wrong somewhere, democracy has not given us the trip to Utopia, travelling first-class, that we had expected. We are beginning to see now that the people were given only the shadow of power, in the shape of the ballot-box and the party-struggle, while the substance of it—foreign policy and economic power—was carefully kept from them. In a modern society, to give the people power while leaving wealth in the hands of a few and reserving international relations for secret dealings between professional diplomats, is virtually to give them no power at all.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

Or take the League of Nations as another instance. In an official review of the League's work, published in 1930 under the title 'Ten Years of International Co-operation,' it is pointed out that the League has to work under severe disabilities. It can take no action except with the consent of its members, and that, it rightly urges, must needs be the case so long as the League exists on the basis of national sovereignty. But if there is one thing in the world which can be singled out as the prime cause of war, it is just this 'national sovereignty,' this claim of the State to own no master. In other words, the League proposes to work for peace while preserving what it knows is bound sooner or later to make peace impossible! Can a temperance society hope to succeed which leaves to its members the right to get drunk?

Russia to-day is trying to make a society of the common good in place of the old society which aimed at private profit. She declares she has demolished capitalism, but she seems to have carried over into her new system a great deal of what was most injurious in it. One of the principal causes of the disaster which has befallen capitalism is that it went all out for the production of wealth and left the distribution of it very largely to chance. So it created huge accumulations of wealth in private hands and industrial equipment on a gigantic scale, while the mass of the people went short of purchasing power. Russia is doing exactly the same thing, except that in her case it is State departments which own the wealth and the plant, while the people take what is left. Personally, I see no moral difference between making a man a cog in the industrial machine and making him a figure in a Five Year Plan. If you sacrifice the individual human being to the necessities of an industrial system, I remain unmoved by the assurance that the system in question is that of Communism and not of Capitalism. The wrong is the same, in whatever name you commit it.

CHURCH PAGEANTRY.

One last illustration. A friend was describing a service he attended in Westminster Abbey, with all the pageantry that could be summoned for the occasion clergy in their robes and bishops with their croziers, censers laden with incense and psalms of organ-music. One felt there was only one thing wanting to complete the scene. What if a Man in a carpenter's jacket had slipped in at the back and looked wistfully on? A great deal of what passes among us for Christianity might find it difficult to answer the question. What has all this in common with the Man who walked in Galilee in poverty nineteen centuries ago?

ON MARRIAGE.

LOCAL MISOGRAMIST AIRS HIS VIEWS.

By A BACHELOR

It is a popular fallacy that no one can know anything of marriage who has not tried it, and popular fallacies, like Charles II, have a way of taking an unconscionable long time in dying—though without the Merry Monarch's saving grace of apology for so doing. Bachelors especially are singled out for the venom of the female of the species if they should have the hardihood not only to remain unwedded themselves but attempt to dissuade others who may be contemplating what is euphemistically known as a 'state of bliss' from taking a step which, though not irrevocable, is nevertheless attended almost immediately by consequences clearly discernible to those who, like myself, have not wholly lost the gentle art of true perspective.

Was it not Punch—himself perhaps not altogether happily named or personally very prepossessing—who gave the advice "Don't" to those about to enter the lists, if indeed this expression may be used of a contest unfair from the start because the parties are not equally armed? Punch's dictum is almost axiomatic, yet his advice has been consistently ignored. But this is no new thing, and since the Dawn of Time to the Greek Kalends, I suppose the ideopraxist must con-

BULLS AND INNERS

From the Office Butts

It's not so hot, living in Hongkong in the summer.

Our week-end weather forecast. Dry—if it doesn't rain.

At the extraordinary meeting of the Craigengower Cricket Club Mr. Bana said that the Committee had muzzled members and fixed the closing time for 1 a.m. every night. Evidently they were afraid that the members would get "shot".

Englishmen may be good losers, but we changed our mind when we listened for a few seconds to the man who missed his car from Chater Road the other day.

If something doesn't happen soon, it will be a case of here to-day and gone to borrow.

Some fellows' favourite film seems to be 'I'm up again!'

Two film stars in Hongkong. Edward Kelly doesn't begin to get interested until there are three stars.

Bathing Note. It is inadvisable to swim immediately after a meal. Crawling back on all fours is so undignified.

As far as this summer's bathing costumes are concerned, we should say that brevity is the soul of kit.

We understand that a certain popular officer who recently took up motoring made a great hit on the first day.

"Who looks after your pet while you are away?" reads an advertisement in a London newspaper. Most wives we know hate to admit that anyone does!

Evolution of a Police Call. Voice from car: Please ... Pl-en-ee! ... Pul-en-ee! ... POLICE!!!

If the water shortage keeps up, we'll have to label our bath tub to know what's in it.

Wheeler and Woolsey were mobbed in Hongkong. Edward Kelly, while sympathising with the two film stars, wishes to point out that the same thing happens to him at the beginning of every month but he does not court publicity.

The committee of the newly-formed Australian Association includes two doctors. The Aussies are taking no chances.

Next week's forecast.—Fair.

She was only Kelly's daughter, but she could say "The Very Idea!"

Two Chinese were bound over at the Central Magistracy this week for the theft of a mah jong set. Too bad, we could have given them the set next door.

Motto for Repulse Bay. People who live in grass houses shouldn't throw midnight parties.

There are many chitfalls for a young man in the Far East.

What a pity Z.B.W. cannot broadcast hot weather. Somebody else might pick it up.

To Stamp Collectors. A useful hint for removing stamps is to soak them in paraffin or kerosene, touch them off with a match, and throw them out of the window. A safer way is to put them in the dustbin and the government will remove them for nothing.

Some of these opium divans are dangerous. We once knew a man who got married as the result of a divan.

Woolsey has decided that he cannot stay in Hongkong after today. We understand that the stock of cigars in the Colony are running short.

"A steam shovel is okay for rough jobs, but they'll never match a man for the fine work."

CANTON PROTEST TO WORLD

NANKING PEACE ATTEMPTS

NO RECOGNITION

Reports that Chiang Kai-shek is negotiating peace with Japan have aroused Canton and the South-West Political Council has authorized the publication of the following statement which has been cabled to the League of Nations and communicated to the representatives in China of the signatories of the Nine-Power Treaty and to the Soviet Ambassador to China:

The South-West Political Council is constrained to address this communication to the League of Nations, which is seized of the Sino-Japanese dispute relating to Manchuria, and to the signatories of the Nine-Power Treaty which guarantees the territorial sovereignty and administrative integrity of the Chinese Republic, as well as to the Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics as a signatory of the Sino-Soviet Agreement of 1924.

NO COMPROMISE.

The Chinese People as a whole are irrevocably opposed to any compromise or agreement with Japan based on Chinese recognition of the Japanese created state of Manchukuo. Manchuria together with Jehol is an integral and vital part of the Chinese Republic whose territory is one and indivisible; and for this reason among others, the tearing away of Manchuria and Jehol cannot be suffered by China save at the risk of such material and moral enfeeblement that her survival as an independent and sovereign state would become a matter of incalculable difficulty.

NEGOTIATIONS IN TRAIN.

This Council is informed that negotiations are in train between agents of the Japanese General Staff, which is the real government of Japan, and emissaries of the Nanking Military Commission.

The Chairman of this Commission is General Chiang Kai-shek, to which the Government of Nanking is entirely subservient, for a settlement of the dispute relating to Manchuria including Jehol on terms not only inconsistent with the League of Nations' resolution condemning Japanese policy and action in Manchuria as well as with the provisions of the Nine-Power Treaty but in utter disregard of the vital interests of China as a self-respecting and independent country.

ALLEGED TERMS.

The terms under negotiation include the following:

(a) The Japanese Government considers it impossible to demand the Chinese National Government to recognize the independence of Manchukuo, but hopes that the Chinese Government will, from the commencement of negotiation, effectively stop all activities toward disturbing the peace of Manchukuo and will consider the Manchukuo Government as de facto. To ensure everlasting peace between China and Japan, these two governments will mutually agree to include provinces north of the Yellow River as "non-war" area.

(b) The Chinese Government will give full guarantee that the boycott of Japanese goods will not be a measure of national policy.

ASIATIC MONROE DOCTRINE.

(c) Should the foregoing two principles be agreed to, the Japanese Government will voluntarily abolish unilateral treaties, and will surrender all rights and privileges pertaining to concessions, extraterritoriality and river navigation, and will further proceed to conclude treaties with the Chinese Government on equal and reciprocal basis with a common object of maintaining an "Asiatic Monroe Doctrine."

A fourth term is also under negotiation which pledges the Japanese Government to give "the Chinese Government every assistance economically, financially and militarily" in order (according to another version) to enable the Nanking Military Commission to suppress other military forces in China.

JAPANESE "CO-OPERATION."

The real meaning of the foregoing terms is clear. Not only must the Chinese Government agree to a de facto recognition of Manchukuo and thus in effect consent to the permanent sovereignty of Manchuria and Jehol from China but Japan is to extend over the rest of China the system of "co-operation" which the Japanese General Staff and its

COMEDY KINGS AT TEA DANCE

WHEELER & WOOLSEY ENJOY THEMSELVES

After entertaining a crowd of kiddies to tea yesterday, Ibert Wheeler and Bert Woolsey attended the tea dance at the King's Restaurant where they joined a big party and enjoyed themselves to the full.

Many other couples were present to see the comedy kings and keen interest was shown when they took part in the dances.

Large caricatures of the actors cut out in cardboard adorned their table and the wisecracking comedians kept their party in continuous merriment.

AMERICA SEEKING CURRENCY TRUCE.

STERLING DOLLAR AND YEN

New York, May 19. Mr. Cordell Hull is attempting to arrange de facto stabilisation of currencies, especially the pound, the dollar and the yen before the World's Economic Conference, according to the Washington correspondent of the Herald Tribune. It is held that a temporary truce will curb further depreciation and facilitate a general reduction of tariffs.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed Mr. Benjamin Wylie to be a member of the Board of Education for a further period of two years.

Agents are working out in Manchukuo. It is hardly necessary to emphasize the danger to the Chinese People and the menace to the world involved in these terms.

NO RECOGNITION.

As there does not exist political machinery enabling the Chinese People to effect (otherwise than by civil war) a change of government in Nanking in order to mark their opposition to the de facto terms, it devolves on the South-West Political Council as a duly constituted and nationally recognized political organ, first, to register the Nation's opposition to the negotiations now in train between the agents of the Japanese General Staff and the Nanking Military Commission or its emissaries whether or not the said negotiations are being conducted, at this stage, with the knowledge of the members of the Government at Nanking; and, secondly, to inform the League of Nations and the friendly Powers to whom this communication is addressed that the Chinese People will refuse to recognize the validity of any agreement which the Government at Nanking may be coerced to conclude with the Japanese Government in violation of Chinese territorial sovereignty and administrative integrity in Manchuria and Jehol and in contradiction with the terms of the League of Nations' resolution relating to the Manchurian question as well as with the provisions of the Nine-Power Treaty.

PROMISSORY NOTE CLAIM.

ACTION TO RECOVER $1,000 FROM CHINESE FIRM

A claim for $1,000, principal due under a Chinese borrowing note dated April 20, 1933, was made by Lau Hang, of 250 Lockhart Road, Wanchai, against the Tung Fong Soda Fountain and Lam Kong-po, managing partner, of 4, Fleming Road, Wanchai, at the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon before Mr. R. E. Lindsell, acting Puisne Judge.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan appeared for plaintiff, and stated that his client was one of the original partners of the defendant firm. The business was sold to Lam Kong-po in November last year, and as at that time he was unable to pay the purchase price plaintiff advanced $1,400 through the agency of a person named Tong Poon-man.

Plaintiff recouped himself in the sum of $300 of the amount advanced, as his share of the purchase price. Promise was made for repayment of the $1,400 in a week's time. The promise was not fulfilled, and demand was made. Later $400 was paid to plaintiff, and a fresh note for $1,000 given, the old one being given back. It was under the note for $1,000 that claim was made.

After evidence had been given by plaintiff, the hearing was adjourned until Tuesday next, at 2.30 p.m.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed Mr. F. Hall to be a Member of the Sanitary Board for a further term of three years.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed Mr. J. S. MacLaren to be Deputy Estate Duty Commissioner and Assistant Colonial Treasurer.

The wedding will shortly take place between Mr. Johannes Moeen, chief officer, mercantile Marine, of Sourabaya, and Miss Clara Pfau, of the Repulse Bay Hotel.

The special week-end train service from Canton to Hongkong will be discontinued unless traffic during the next few week-ends justify its maintenance, announced the Canton-Kowloon Railway management.

His Excellency the Governor has appointed J. C. F. Henry, Deputy Superintendent and Inspection Officer of the Fire Brigade and G. Saunders and W. M. Smith, Station Officers of the Fire Brigade to be Government Inspectors.

It is notified that The Chinese Merchants Land Investment and Construction Company, Limited will be struck off the Companies Register, if it fails to obtain a certificate to commence business within two months after the publication of this notice.

Peking, May 18. Mr. Wang Keh-min, financial expert who has come to Peking to assist General Huang Fu, met with a serious accident this afternoon, when he stumbled over the threshold of the house where he had just taken up residence.

Striking his face on the ground he broke his glasses, some broken glass being forced into his eye and resulting in serious injury.

He was hurried to the Peking Union Medical College for an operation, but it is learned that his condition is serious and his eye-sight is definitely endangered. Mr. Wang is already blind in one eye and, with this accident, he faces the possibility of complete blindness.—Reuter.

Business is likely to prevent Jack London from putting in many appearances, though he intends to run whenever possible.

Included in the extensive programme of fixtures for the season is a match against Belgian sides in Brussels on July 23.

I understand that Jack Andrew has matters well in hand for the new Marathon course. This event, held in conjunction with the King's hard Trophy meeting on June 10, will for the first time finish at the White City Stadium.

PAPAL BLESSING IN PUBLIC

THOUSANDS KNEEL
IN PIAZZA

Rome, April 16.
The Pope to-day revived a tradition which had been broken for 82 years—he gave an Easter blessing to the public from the outside facade of St. Peter's. A multitude of over 160,000 people were massed before him, and their fervour exceeded the records of papal Rome at the height of its power before 1870.

Most of the people had waited several hours to see the Pope and hear his blessing. When he appeared at the great window—borne aloft in the Sedla Gestatoria, wearing the triple crown and flanked by two bearers—waves of cheering filled the square. The Piazza, with thousands of fluttering handkerchiefs, looked like a field of narcissi in a breeze.

Pius XI pronounced the triple benediction Ex Orbi with full liturgical rites and with plenary indulgence.

The cordon troops of the Italian Grenadier Guards presented arms and the band of the Palatine Guard played a papal anthem, while the faithful knelt.

The April sun turned the vestments of the Pope and those of his retinue into a sheen of gold. Seen against the over-powering background of St. Peter's, with the sound of trumpets faintly heard in the pauses in the cheering, the interplay of regal magnificence, military pomp and religious ritualism made the spectacle like some vision of Imperial Rome.

PONTIFICAL MASS.

The first part of the morning ceremony began inside St. Peter's at 9.30 when the Pope said Mass at the altar of the Confessional—the first pontifical Easter Mass since 1870.

After the exposure of the Holy Relics the papal procession moved out of the church and upstairs to the Hall of Benediction above the facade, where the Pontiff appeared at twenty minutes past one o'clock. There were 47,000 ticket holders in the church, and outside there was a cordon of 4,000 Italian troops reserving a space for those in the church.

Another 4,000 people were massed on the roof of the Bernini

BIG GIFTS TO FRIEND

£30,000. A HOUSE,
AND £5,000 A YEAR

A life-long friend receives £30,000, a London house, and £5,000 a year under the will, just published, of Mr. Edward Wagg, of Catherine-street, Westminster, a director of Helbert, Wagg and Co., merchant bankers, of Threadneedle-street, E.C.

Mr. Wagg left estate of the gross value of £781,640 with net personality £761,362.

The friend, Mr. James Kenrick Edward, said to a reporter: "I was introduced to Mr. Wagg in Scotland 53 years ago. He invited me to stay at his house for a fortnight, our friendship developed, and I lived with him for 53 years."

"Ours was an ideal friendship. I was married last year, and my wife came to live in the same house. Mr. Wagg remained a bachelor, but our friendship persisted until his death."

In addition to his London house, Mr. Wagg also left the use for life of his real estate in Berkshire to Mr. Edward. For 50 years Mr. Wagg had maintained his beautiful riverside home, Islet, Maidenhead, and both there and in his London home there are many servants who had been in his employ for more than 25 years.

Mr. Wagg left £4,000 to Mr. Edward for distribution among servants at his discretion, and £10,000 on trust for servants or persons to whom he had been giving assistance, besides other bequests to servants and employees.

Charities benefit to the extent of £18,000, while £1,000 is on trust for distribution among the poor of Cookham, Berkshire.

colonnade and on Vatican buildings, while 110,000, according to police estimates, were packed into the public section of the Piazza as well as in all adjacent streets, at windows and roof tops. Among the crowd there were 25,000 pilgrims from all European nations, with Germans predominating.

The day proved somewhat fatiguing for the Pope, but he carried on with customary energy, and expressed his great sense of satisfaction at the magnitude of the Holy Year Easter response to his call.

FASCISM RENEWS ITS YOUTH

PASSING THE TORCH TO NEW HANDS

Rome, April 21.
The Fascist party and militia to-day absorbed into their ranks some 120,000 picked youths of twenty-one as a guarantee of the perennial "Giovinezza" of a Fascist revolution still technically considered to be "on the march."

To give further significance to the occasion to-day is also Fascist Labour day and Rome's birthday.

This triple festival was the occasion for a series of public works inaugurated, sports and parades, all carried out to a general background of shut shops, crowded streets, brass bands and flags.

But the real item of the day's doings was the Blackshirts' levee. It is this ceremony which gives continuity to the Fascist revolution. It is the formal transmission of Fascism to the new generation.

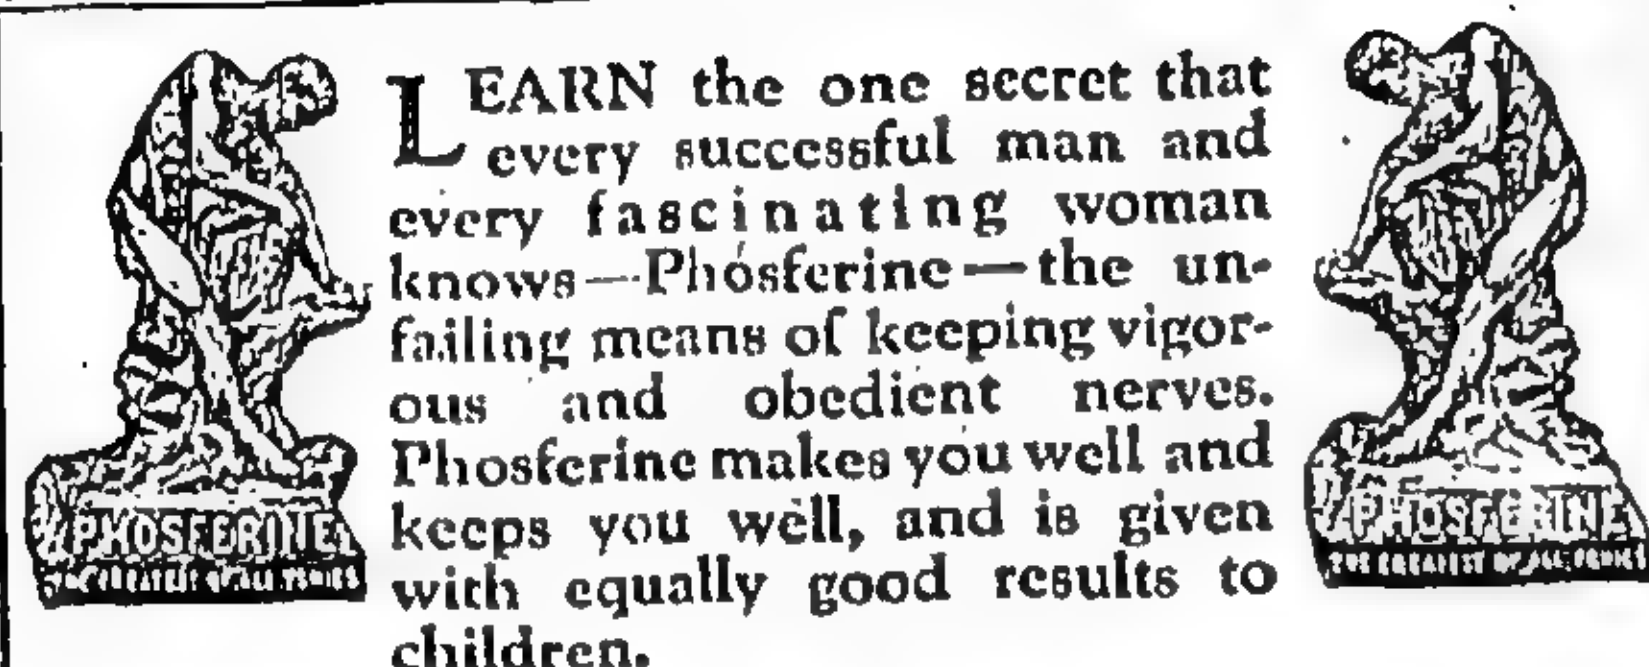

The levee consisted of the promotion of fourteen-year-old balilla into the ranks of the avanguardisti, the promotion of eighteen-year-old avanguardisti into the ranks of the university Fascists and the giovani Fascists, and the promotion of twenty-one-year-old youths from these two organisations into the ranks of the party proper and the Fascist militia.

PICKED LADS.

All were picked lads, whose number has been eliminated by competition and special quality. This year the levee meant a general movement of promotion affecting about 400,000 boys and youths, with an average move up in each division of about 120,000. In each case the promoted recruit embraced and personally passed on his emblem to the newcomer, the last category men receiving the rifles of the retiring militiamen.

Rain rather spoiled the ritual side of the ceremony in Rome, but youthful enthusiasm refused to be damped. There are to-day 2,688,687 children and youths enrolled in these junior organisations, from which the militia is ultimately fed.

Signor Mussolini took the salute of the Rome quota which has passed into the militia ranks as inheritors of his revolutionary fighting Fascists of the old days. To symbolise both the continuity and return of the Roman spirit the parade—held under a great emblem of the Victor—was held by the Forum of Caesar in the Imperial Way.

Pepsodent polishes teeth as it removes film

This double-action tooth paste brings a rapid improvement in the appearance of your teeth

SOME tooth pastes will remove film, but they may harm tooth enamel. Others are perfectly safe, but they may fail to remove film.

The difference between Pepsodent and most other tooth pastes lies in its new cleansing and polishing material. This material is twice as soft as the cleansing and polishing materials commonly used in tooth pastes. That is why Pepsodent accomplishes the three most important things necessary to keep teeth clean and sparkling.

It removes film—completely.

It polishes the surfaces of the teeth to a sparkling brilliance.

It cleanses and polishes without scratching delicate tooth enamel.

WALTERS SCORE DOUBLE CENTURY

FIRST OF SEASON

EXHILARATING CRICKET

KENT, YORKS, SUSSEX & MIDDLESEX WIN

Gloucester's Wonderful to Secure Win

London, May 19.
English first class cricket enjoyed an unusual feature to-day, when a definite result was reached in every match.

It was further made distinctive by the first double of the season, gathered by Walters of Worcester against Kent. But brilliant effort that it was it failed to save the Potters from defeat, Freeman coming along to eclipse individual performances with some great bowling which yielded him 13 wickets for 158 runs.

The Middlesex-Gloucester tie produced some exhilarating cricket and a spectacular ending with Gloucester making a vain attempt to pull off a sensational victory. They failed by 39 runs after being set 291 to win.

The match produced 1,399 runs for 38 wickets and boasted bowling as well as batting feats.

HEARNE & HAMMOND.

Middlesex compiled a very useful aggregate of 376 in their first knock. Hearne playing his most attractive cricket to remain unbeaten with 146 to his credit. But even this imposing score did not prevent Sinfeld from bowling with effect and his 6 for 90 was an amazing achievement.

Hammond, fresh back from his Australian tour, found his best batting form when, after Gloucester had been dismissed for 229, and Middlesex had increased their advantage by scoring a further 243 for 8 declared, he laboured the Londoners' attack to the extent of scoring 178.

Thanks to his great innings, Gloucester only just failed to achieve the almost impossible.

YORKSHIRE TACTICS.

Yorkshire indulged in some astute tactics to beat Essex. With the game restricted by rain, Yorkshire had to resort to a clever declaration to win. Dismissing Essex for 64 at the first time of asking, they went in to hit up 128 for four wickets and then applied the closure. The wicket was still in a bad state, and Essex had the mortification of being sent back the second time for 68.

Hendley Verity was the hero of the game, demolishing the Essex batsmen to take 11 wickets for 74 runs.

With three batsmen compiling runs with the greatest of ease, and a bowler securing victims with equal facility there was a real paradoxical note about the meeting of Kent and Worcester.

Thanks to Walters, Worcester amassed the respectable score of 383 in their first venture to the wicket, but this did not prevent Freeman taking 8 for 110—easily the best piece of bowling of the day. Kent, taking full advantage of a run-making wicket, proceeded to surpass Worcester's score by 63 runs, thanks to Fairservice, the son of William Fairservice, the old Kent bowler, and Billy Ashdown, who both topped the three figure mark. Freeman returned to work destruction and thereafter Kent's victory was assured.

RESULTS AT A GLANCE

COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP.

Derby (81 & 191-3) beat Somerset (87 & 182) by seven wickets
Kent (446 & 58-1) beat Worcester (383 & 191) by nine wickets
Sussex (445 & 23-0) beat Notts (227 & 239) by ten wickets
Yorkshire (128-4 dec; & 5-0) beat Essex (64 & 68 by ten wickets)
Middlesex (376 & 243-8 dec) beat Gloucester (229 & 351) by 39 runs

FRIENDLY.

West Indies (269 & 7-0) beat Cambridge (104 & 171) by ten wickets.—Reuter.

JAMES LANGRIDGE STARTS.

James Langridge has started to emulate John in accomplishing all round feats for Sussex. He played the leading part in the county's victory over Notts, firstly scoring 101 and then taking 6 for 32.

Bowlers held the upper hand in the matches between Derby and Somerset and the West Indies and Cambridge. The West Indies appear to be getting into their stride and to visit Fenner's and dismiss the Cantabs for 104 and 171 was an excellent achievement.

POLY: HARRIERS CELEBRATE

50TH ANNIVERSARY THIS YEAR

PROSPECTS FOR SEASON

Polytechnic Harriers are this season celebrating their 50th year of track athletics.

Rarely has the club experienced such a lean time as last summer, when not one of its members secured international recognition. Further, had not A. J. Gray won the hop, step and jump, no A.A.A. championship would have gone their way.

In a chat I had with Mr. G. F. Dickson (secretary) I was assured that this jubilee year would mark a great revival, writes a New Chronicle representative.

Illness of injury prevented Jack Hanlon, George Saunders, Alec Ellery and F. W. Dawe from carrying the maroon—which Harry Edwards, Willie Applegarth, Albert Hill and Jack London helped to exalt—at the last National Championship meeting. I am told that all are now fit and anxious to show exactly what they can do.

A.A.A. FLAT TITLE

SHORT TRACK ROBS BAILEY OF RECORD

London, Apr. 24.

G. W. Bailey (Salford Harriers), the Empire Games steeplechase champion, easily beat the previous best championship time in winning the A.A.A. ten miles flat title, at Sheffield, on Saturday, in 50min. 51 sec. an against Sid Thomas's championship best of 51min. 31 2-5 sec. at Stamford Bridge in 1889.

At the conclusion of the race, however, the track was measured by A.A.A. officials and was found to be short to the extent of 4ft. 4in. per quarter-mile lap. The runners were, therefore, estimated to have covered approximately 58yds. short of ten miles. Bailey would doubtless have got inside the previous best figures had the track measured the full quarter-mile.

Bailey led throughout, and at 8 1/2 miles had lapped all the other competitors. E. Harper finished second in 52 min. 16 2-5 sec., beaten by more than a quarter of a mile by Bailey, while H. Walker was third of the 13 starters in 52 min. 36 3-5 sec. J. F. Wood, the holder, did not defend his title. T. Evenson (Salford H.) the National cross-country champion, retired after about five miles when third to Bailey and Walker.

Beer through the ages.

In the old fairy story days.

In the old fairy story days, when a lovely girl was hidden in the topmost tower of just such a castle as this, waiting for the prince who should come and rescue her, . . . beer was served both above and below the salt in the castle hall. . . . Those were rough times and men had to be fit if they were to survive . . . they built up their great frames and strong muscles by drinking good malt liquor-beer—

Good beer is the supreme builder of brown and muscle . . . Drink it regularly for perfect health.

CINEMA SCREENINGS.

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES

"Jack's the Boy" is a zesty, exhilarating comedy of the type enjoyed by all. Jack Hulbert and Cleely Courtneidge, the great comedians in this picture, will entrance you with their wonderful sense of buffoonery.

You have seen Jack Hulbert, as a silly as in "The Ghost Train," disguised, by moustache and glasses, as a hall porter in "Sunshine Susie," but you have yet to see him in his most joyous screen role P. C. Brown, in "Jack's the Boy," the riotous Gaietyborough comedy at the King's Theatre. He is simply terrific! As a gay young man about town; as a cop on point duty; chasing a crook through the streets of London in a baby Austin car; diving after the same crook in Madame Tussaud's Chamber of Horrors and arresting, impudently, the executioner of Mary, Queen of Scots, when watching crooks at work in Madame Tussaud's—he is simply tremendous, and don't forget he is partnered by the one and only Cleely Courtneidge, who in her element, as the proprietress of a pseudo-Scottish cafe and when helping our Constable do his duty in chasing crooks.

"They Just Had To Get Married"

You'll laugh so heartily that you'll cry when you see "They Just Had To Get Married," the Universal comedy which comes to the Central Theatre on Sunday, with its two leading roles played by Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts.

Here is a picture which runs the whole gamut of comedy, from biting satire to riotous farce, with a fast pace which at times will have you literally holding onto the arms of your seat, thrilled with dangerous exploits at the time you are shrieking with laughter.

"They Just Had To Get Married" is a comedy classic. The cast appearing in support of Summerville and Pitts includes Roland Young, Verree 'Fendable, Piff D'Oreay and many other screen players.

"Red Dust"

"At last I have been given an opportunity to portray a role that gives me a chance at real, down-to-earth drama."

This was the comment of Jean Harlow when she was interviewed during the filming of "Red Dust," which commences to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre with Miss Harlow and Clark Gable in the principal roles.

According to Miss Harlow, the most fascinating thing about her role in "Red Dust," is its progress in character delineation. When the story opens, she is supposed to be a girl of somewhat "shady" reputation who has been driven by tragedy to depart from the paths of virtue. Then she is thrown into contact with a group of people in the confines of a jungle plantation and a gradual metamorphosis takes place.

"I was supposed to maintain the character of a hardened, experienced woman," explained Miss Harlow, "but later, the tremendous, real affection I have for the man in the story forced me to do an 'about face' without mauling the character I have previously

"Call Her Savage"

Clara Bow has been one of the busiest actresses on the Fox lot these days. For the first time in nearly two years she faced the cameras and microphones for the production of her first Fox Picture, "Call Her Savage," showing at the King's Theatre. Her return to the screen is being watched with interest by her hundreds of friends in the movie colony. Never before has an actress so maintained her popularity through a period of inactivity. In Clara Bow's case it proved the old adage of "absence makes the heart grow fonder."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By W. E. McKenney

Occasionally a hand arises which defies all conventions. Bidding methods must be cast aside in favour of courage and audacity, and the final declaration depends more upon the temperament of the players than upon their actual card holdings.

Such a hand was played in a recent duplicate game at the Cleveland Whist Club. A small slam could be, and actually was, made in each of the four suits, and the final contract was doubled in nearly every case.

The fact that neither side was vulnerable added to the sport. Spirited bidding was the rule at all tables, and the side which first gave up its own declaration in favour of a double usually got the short end.

Probably most of those who bid the small slam did it for a sacrifice, expecting to be defeated. The slam in spades or clubs could have been defeated by a freak defence, but no one was able to find it and Fate was with the slammers in every case.

Perhaps the most interesting bidding on this hand was as follows: South opened with one diamond and West overcalled with

▲Q-J-10-8-5-4	▲K-9-3
♥None	♥A-K-J
♦9-7-6-5-2	♦4-3
♠10-6	♠9-7-4-2
▲None	▲A-7-6-2
♥Q-9-8	♥10-6-5
7-2	♥K-Q-10-8-3
♦A-4	♦A
♠K-Q-J
8-5-3

three clubs. North realized that the hand was a freak and attempted to stop the proceedings with a bid of five diamonds.

East also sensed the freakish distribution and interpolated a bid of five hearts, prepared to bid six clubs if doubled. South doubled, and West, thoroughly satisfied with the heart bid, passed.

North could not stand the double so he bid five spades, also prepared to run back into diamonds if necessary. East doubled. South passed, and West took out with six hearts.

After passes by North and East, South hesitated a long time and finally elected to try for six spades rather than double the heart contract.

West was of a slightly pessimistic temperament and finally decided that his opponents could make six spades. He knew that one of them must be void of hearts, that the ace of clubs was against him, and that his only sure trick was the ace of diamonds.

His opponents could surely not take many tricks against a heart contract, so he bid seven hearts for a sacrifice, without even giving his partner a chance to double the six spades.

If East had any black looks available, he probably used them at this point, but he played the hand out for a penalty of one trick and the sacrifice proved to be highly profitable. North could have made six spades against any lead but the jack of diamonds, and that lead would have required both masterful card reading and a lucky guess.

LOVE OR MONEY?

"Heaven help us!" Lottie interrupted here.

Mona continued. "These are the only de luxe rooms with windows out of reach of the natives. That seems important, particularly as we shall stop at so many islands. All day at some of them."

"They let the natives swarm the place?"

"It seems they do. They depend upon the natives for a lot of freight."

Locking the stateroom, the little party made its way to the lower deck but one, thence to the deck near the second cabin where the gangplank stood.

"Write now, Min!" enquired Ma with flowing eyes. It was the first time Min had ever been away from her for periods of more than a few weeks.

"All ashore that's going ashore!" sang the steward. "Goodbye, Kitty. Be a good girl."

"Write to me, Min, do," Kitty said shyly. "And give my love to Bud."

"Help Ma. Don't let her slip on the gangplank," Mona instructed. "We can't go down again. We are supposed to stay up here."

The deck hands were busy with ropes rushed this way and that. Ma and Kitty, among the last, were urged gently off the gangplank.

The crowd surged forward to the end of the pier. The plank was drawn in amid much shouting. A dressmaker's messenger had arrived too late apparently. With excellent aim the package he held in his hand was tossed aboard and a name shouted.

The tug up forward had come alongside and suddenly the Miranda throbbed and quivered.

"Exactly on time," announced a fellow passenger at Lottie's elbow. The clock on the soap factory close at hand struck four.

The strip of water between the Miranda and the pier widened. Straw, bottles, orange peeling rose and swayed with the motion of the water. The Miranda side-stepped, moving out into the centre of the river instead of forward.

Then the ship shivered again and moved ahead. Past the Battery and Bedloe's Island. Out into the harbour.

South America lay ahead!

"I'm going to miss that old lady," said Lottie, wiping a tear away. Lottie was in fine fettle.

OBITUARY

MEMBER OF U.S. SENATE FOR 24 YEARS

Washington, May 19.

Member of the Senate for 24 years, Mr. Porter James McCumber died here to-day. His long term of office as a Republican was marked by many notable achievements, among which was joint authorship of the Fordney-McCumber Tariff Law.

Born in Illinois in 1858, Mr. McCumber studied law at the Michigan University, and became senior member of the law firm of McCumber and Bogart. Following a year as State Attorney for Richland County, he became actively interested in politics, and was returned on four occasions to the Senate, holding office from 1899 to 1923.

He was chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and recently had been in private practice.

Nothing short of police instructions would have been able to wrest her from the deck of the Miranda just then.

"Do you mean my mother?" queried Mona. "That's a nice way to talk!"

Lottie shook her head. "I don't mean your mother, you idiot! I mean Old Lady Liberty. The statue! This is the first time in my life I've ever left my country 'tis of thee. Now let's go inside and fix up pretty for the fellow voyagers."

In the name of my Government that we accept the Plan."

BY STAGES.

Captain Anthony Eden recalled that President Roosevelt had stated that the acceptance of the draft convention was only the first step. It had always been the British view that disarmament should be by stages. The objective in putting forward the draft convention was to have a basis for real disarmament. He was gratified by the approval given by Herr Nadolsky. Its acceptance by all the delegations would make a great contribution to the confidence of the world.

FRENCH STATEMENT.

The French delegate, Monsieur
Massigli, said that after Herr Hiller's speech he interpreted Herr Nadolsky's remarks as indicating that a new position had been taken up by the German delegation and as showing that the obstacles which stood in the way of the progress of the conference had been removed. It now only remained for the conference to get down to the work of precision.
The meeting adjourned until tomorrow.—British Wireless.

His Excellency the Governor has approved the promotion of Lieutenant J. Durran, M.B., Ch.B. (Edin.), to the rank of Captain, in the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps.

EXPULSION FROM COLONY

SPANIARD WITHOUT A
VALID PASSPORT

His brother's refusal to sign a bond for $1,000, the maximum sum, presented Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court this morning with no other alternative but to make an expulsion order against Jose Del Pan, a Spaniard destitute from Singapore, who was charged with entering the Colony
without a valid passport.

Mr. Del Pan, manager of the Station Hotel, Kowloon, agreed that his brother came from Singapore at his request. His brother was not destitute as he could give him work to do and could afford him board and lodging. If the bond were for a smaller sum he would sign, but he was not prepared to sign for $1,000 as he was not a rich man.

The Magistrate pointed out that defendant had committed an offence by coming to the Colony without a valid passport, but the Government were prepared to overlook that providing his brother was willing to sign a bond.

Mr. Del Pan stated that it was their intention to send defendant to Macao to-day.

Mr. Thompson, A.D.C.I., said it was probable defendant would be sent back to Hongkong.

Mr. Del Pan explained that Mr.
Farrell, Consul for Spain, had no power to extend passports, and would have to send the papers to Shanghai.

ATTACK ON PEKING FEARED

peace at Peking and Tientsin.

This appointment was an indication of the Chinese desire for peace,
but, unfortunately, since Huang Fu's arrival, the Government had been informed of secret and further advances in many directions of Japanese troops, all heading for Tungchow, Peking and Tientsin.
Ho Ying-ching said that the future outlook for Peking was definitely black. As far as he was concerned, his troops would offer resistance to any Japanese attempt to enter Peking or Tientsin.

Chinese military intelligence makes a startling statement that some fifty thousand Japanese and Manchukuo are gradually moving on Peking from the Miyun sector.
Feng Yu-hsiang, whose subordinates Soong Chih-yuan and Sun Tien-ying have performed meritorious services has arrived here.—
